Indian Corn and Horses.

As the horse is kept for his muscle, he must have food to supply muscle; but great muscular exertion requires more rapid respiration, and this respiration is sustained by the carbon of the food; therefore, there must be a proper balance between the carbonaceous and nitrogenous elements of the food. We wish to impress upon the mind of the farmer, that the animal which is dependent upon his muscle for its value must have quite different treatment from the animal grown for flesh or milk or wool.

Like products like. It is the muscle-forming elements in the food that produce the muscular development in the animal.

Cornmeal contains ten per cent. of muscle-forming food, and sixty-eight per cent. of heat and fat producing food. This is too large a proportion of carbon and too little of nitrogen, either for properly developing the coat or sustaining the horse under great muscular exertion. It is too heating and fattening, the best type of food for making beef. Let us examine a few of the foods sometimes employed for feeding horses.

Of nutritious or muscle-forming food, the oat contains 15 per cent.; the pea 24; oil meal 26; wheat and rye bran 16; barley 10; millet 14; timothy hay 10; red clover 16 to 18 per cent. Of carbonaceous, or heat and fat-forming elements, the oat contains 55 to 60 per cent.; the pea 51; oil meal 42; wheat and rye bran 55; barley 65; rye flour 62; millet 62; timothy hay 47; red clover 40 per cent.

The oat, as will be seen, contains four of carbonaceous to one of nitrogenous food, and this proportion has been found best for the development of muscular force in the animal.
If we take a mixture of timothy and clover hay, we shall find the proportion the same.— Clover is very rich in muscle-forming food, and this explains its effect in growing young animals. The fast horse men long since decided in favor of oats as the best type of food to develop the muscular power.

Our neighbors of the Dominion are producing horses much sought after by street carriage and omnibus companies on our side of the line. These horses are found to be more muscular, more supple of limb, capable of more endurance, stand pavements better, have sounder feet, and are serviceable years longer than Western horses fed largely on Indian corn. The Canadian horse owes its muscular superiority to the clover, oats, and peas upon which it is fed.—Live Stock, Farm and Fireside Journal.

Twenty Rules for Health.

1. Remember, the Author of the laws which govern the human body is the Author of the ten commandments.

2. Infidelity to the laws—established that mankind should be healthy and happy—is the greatest sin of the present generation.

3. Be cheerful, trustful to others, and faithful to your own best conception of duty.
Never brood over troubles that you have, and be sure you never brood any.

4. Be much in the sunlight, and prefer light-colored clothing.

5. Drones must die. Exercise liberally and live. Be out-doors all you can while the sun shines.

6. Breathe pure air. Live with open windows and the windows of heaven will be more likely to open for you.

7. Pray with a pure heart, a clean skin.—
Bathe often.

8. Avoid stimulation by spirits of all kinds, strong coffee and tea, opium and tobacco.

9. Keep the head cool, feet and heart warm, hopes heavenward, and finger-nails clean.

10. Eat only three times daily, and never between meals, not a nut nor an apple. Drink nothing while eating.

11. One hearty meal of meat per day is sufficient. The other two should be spared.

12. Avoid late, hearty suppers, pork, spices and pepper, rich pastry, and imperfectlycooked meats.

13. Wheat, oat and barley meal, with beans, peas, lean meat, fish and wild game, are the best articles of food.

14. Fruits are cooling to the blood, and specially adapted to warm weather.

15. Eat slowly, masticate your food well, and eat nothing for three hours before retiring.

16. Let the time spent at table be happy.—
Encourage pleasant, cheerful conversation; joke, but do not argue. Rest half an hour after every hearty meal.

17. Sleep eight hours of each day.

18. Brain, bone and muscle are built of different material, and the brain-worker should have food different from the muscular worker. He is not thoroughly educated who cannot select food adapted to his means.

19. Avoid coquets, and suspend no article of clothing from the waist. Protect every part of the body from chill and exposure.

20. Study hygiene, attend health lectures and read health literature. As you are ignorant or intelligent in physiology will your habits be wise or otherwise.

A Boy's Courage.

The Lexington (Va.) Gazette says: Gov.
Letcher the other day related a very interesting incident of the war, while in Kemper's room at the hotel. He said that in one of the battles below Richmond four flag-bearers had been shot down, and a call was made for a volunteer to carry the colors. A stripling took the torn standard. In a few minutes the staff was snapped by a shot. The boy sat down, unconscious a shoe-string and tied it. He started in front again. Another bullet splintered the staff. It was then fastened by the other shoe-string. He had hardly shook the folds out a second time, when down fell the flag, struck by a ball. The shoe-strings had given out. He unbuttoned his jacket, ripped his shirt into ribbons and wrapped the broken rod, and carried the tattered ensign through the fight. Governor Letcher said: When they brought me the boy, with the shattered staff patched up with shoe-strings and shirt-tail, I made him an officer and gave him the best sword Virginia had. The gallant fellow was from Monroe County. He was killed in battle.

A Tippacnoe Horse.

When Hon. Morrow B. Lowry used to stalk into the Senate with his ruffles a yard in advance of him, and his hair like the quills of the porcupine, members would say, "something is in the wind to-day, Morrow" on his high horse. Now, from all accounts his horse is not so high as he is old. He had on exhibition at the State fair in Erie, a horse forty-one years old. The horse was rode by Mr. Lowry at a large political meeting in 1840. The horse was then eight years old, and was the property of Mr. George B. Lou-man. Some ten years ago the horse's teeth got so long he could not masticate hard food and was fed on bread for five years. Mr.
Lowry then had his mouth dressed by a dentist, and since that time the horse can eat corn or any kind of grain. Mr. Lowry says he had about three-fourths of an inch taken off his teeth, and his mouth now is as good as if he were sixteen or eighteen years old.—

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

Our distinguished fellow-citizen Peter Neit arrived home from Albany Tuesday.

The freight in the creek made it hard work for small boats to cross.

Bach's new building is one of the most substantial in town. But we don't want to build it in the basement with water.

Important evidence has been lately discovered as to the whereabouts of those stolen $25,000 in bonds.

The agent for the gasoline lamps claims that lack of proper attention is the cause of their poor behavior.

Tuesday was the biggest day for politicians in Kingston since the election. We didn't learn what was up.

The storm made another big hole in Newkirk avenue. The continual grading of this street is the only successful plan yet discovered for filling Brown's pond.

The Martin had to discharge freight on Tuesday across the docks of the Baldwin. While doing so one of the hands slipped and tumbled two boxes of shoes into the creek.

An advertiser wants a situation in which he can lend his money $200. Here's a chance for some printing-office to get a good devil.

Ex-Superintendent Emerson was in the city last night looking for an honest man. As he left his lighted lantern on a shoe-box it is supposed he got disgusted at his lack of success.

The Right Rev. Dr. Neely, Bishop of Maine, will preach in St. John's Episcopal Church in this city this evening. Services to commence at 7 o'clock.

The boys had a fine time with the rats on Tuesday. The water drove them out of their hiding-places, and they scampered across the wharves, and the boys after them with stones and sticks. Lots of them were killed.

The moving machine man was busy again on the corner of Division and Grand streets on Tuesday. Lots of people watched their breath in vain attempts to beat everybody else.

Lost by a little girl a little kitten, with a great deal of white and a little maltese about it, and a little red ribbon on its little neck with a little name upon it. Anybody leaving it at this office will receive a little silver piece.

The National Union County Bank reports loans $244,023.25, legal tender $18,285, capital $150,000, surplus $35,000, profits $11,576.28, deposits $134,554.02. The Kingston National Bank reports loans $245,357.82, legal tender $18,600, capital $150,000, surplus $18,221.34, profits $3,325.57, deposits $131,684.57.

One of our carriers had a rough time serving our patrons in the storm. His hat blew off into the gutter, and in trying to regain it he himself fell into it, and in trying to get up the wind tossed him over again. He had to travel home after another hat, and then made a new start. After he reached home from his route he was as wet as a drowned rat—but he served his route.

An Avenue saloon-keeper invited a lot of German friends to visit him last Sunday, and his good wife roasted some chickens, which she put away in a back-room while she treated them hospitably to lager at the bar. After they had drunk about a dozen times one of the party went in the back room and plumped the chickens in his hat, and out he stalked, leaving the rest swigging away. After they had gulped down eighteen or twenty glasses apiece they started for the more substantial food the lady of the house had provided for them. Their disappointment was so great that they had to take half a dozen more drinks before they could begin to think of the matter with any degree of composure. Meanwhile 'tother Datchman' was moved to the observation car that he "never did see such tender and nice chickens as that little bar-tender lady cooked for him."

High Water at Rondout Light House today at 4 A. M. and 4:30 P. M.

Republican Assembly Nominations. The Republicans of the Second Assembly District have nominated Hon. J. H. Brown.

Personal. The friends of Capt. James Cogswell will be glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from his injuries, and is expected home the latter part of the week.

Railroad Accident at Tivoli. Trains on the Hudson River Railroad were somewhat delayed Monday evening in consequence of a collision which occurred at Tivoli about seven o'clock. The train which left at 5:30 and the one due here at 8:30 met on a single track which is being widened and repairs are being made, and one of the engines and some of the cars were displaced from the track. No person was hurt, and no great damage resulted, the orders being that speed should be reduced to five miles per hour there. The north bound train had the right of way. —Albany Express.

The Way She Does It. We were told yesterday of an old lady residing near if not in this city, who is the mother of three blooming, grown-up daughters. Now, on Sunday evenings they go to church, as all good girls should, and after service are usually escorted home by three young men, which performance (not the going to church—the escort home) has a tendency to make the girls a little behind-hand in rising on Monday morning, which is wash morning. That rather asperates the good mother, who is usually in the sweetest of tempers, so going to the stairs leading to the room of the girls, she exclaims in a severe voice, "Girls, 'aint you ashamed of yourselves! Here it's Monday morning, and to-morrow's Tuesday and 'next day's Wednesday. There's the week half gone, and you 'aunt done washin' yet!" Then from above can be heard three bonuses on the floor, and soon after comes such a getting down stairs as was never seen before.

Inter County S. S. Association. The anniversary meeting of the Ulster County Sunday School Association commenced this day (Wednesday) at the Second M. E. Church of this city. There will be two sessions—afternoon and evening. The afternoon session begins at two o'clock, and the programme is as follows: 1, Opening Hymn; 2, Scripture Reading; 3, Prayer; 4, Singing; 5, Reports; 6, Singing; 7, Address to Teachers by Uriah E. Terwilliger, Esq.; 8, Singing; 9, Address to Parents by Rev. James Cooper; 10, Singing; 11, Miscellaneous Business; 12, Discussing: "The Congregation and the Sunday School." Horatio Fowles, Rev. A. B. Nicholson; 13, Singing and Benediction. The programme for the evening session, which commences at seven o'clock, will be as follows: 1, Children's Meeting; 2, Singing; 3, Scripture Reading; 4, Prayer; 5, Singing; 6, Address by Frank D. Abrams; 7, Singing; 8, Address by Rev. J. Elmendorf, D. D.; 9, Singing; 10, Address by Rev. C. Waters; 11, Singing and Benediction. All persons interested in the Sunday School cause are cordially invited to be present.

The Kingston Races. In consequence of the track of the Kingston Driving Park Association being washed out there was no racing yesterday, and the races announced for that day will take place today if it doesn't rain. All the horses entered are expected to be on the track today, and some fine trotting will be witnessed.

Drowned at High Falls. In a tug, steamer on the Hudson River, the tug of the Merchants & Tanners' Line, was drowned in the Delaware & Hudson Canal at Lock No. 12, at High Falls, on Saturday night. He walked off the towpath above the lock, and was probably blinded by the lock lamp. The Captain of the boat and the tender went to aid him immediately, but when found he was dead.

Another Serious Charge. James Thompson, who came into the Freeman office on Tuesday and made the following statement: He said that on Saturday evening he and Mike Flory went to O'Pray's City Hotel and were there arrested for disorderly conduct by Officer Ryan, on complaint of O'Pray, and taken to the lock-up. On Sunday evening a trial was held, in which Ryan officiated as Police Justice and fined them $15. They did not have as much money with them, so they finally settled by paying altogether $11 fines and $2 for costs. They were then discharged from custody.

If this story be correct, there is more need still for investigation.

Third Judicial District. The Republican Convention for the Third Judicial District was held at the Decker House on Saturday. It was a stormy meeting. There were contesting delegates from this county, and the meeting was not harmonious. Messrs. Voorhis, Wade and Steadman of Albany withdrew from the Convention, leaving this county to be represented by John M. Harris and T. B. Morrow. The following gentlemen were placed in nomination for Justice of the Supreme Court: Messrs. John H. Reynolds of Columbia, W. S. Kenyon of Ulster, Isaac Lawson of Albany, Wm. H. Greene, George Woodford, and Rufus H. King. On the second ballot John H. Reynolds had the most votes, Kenyon seven and Woodford two. This nominated Kenyon. The Convention was then adjourned.

The Kingston Races. In consequence of the track of the Kingston Driving Park Association being washed out there was no racing yesterday, and the races announced for that day will take place today if it doesn't rain. All the horses entered are expected to be on the track today, and some fine trotting will be witnessed.

Drowned at High Falls. In a tug, steamer on the Hudson River, the tug of the Merchants & Tanners' Line, was drowned in the Delaware & Hudson Canal at Lock No. 12, at High Falls, on Saturday night. He walked off the towpath above the lock, and was probably blinded by the lock lamp. The Captain of the boat and the tender went to aid him immediately, but when found he was dead.

Another Serious Charge. James Thompson, who came into the Freeman office on Tuesday and made the following statement: He said that on Saturday evening he and Mike Flory went to O'Pray's City Hotel and were there arrested for disorderly conduct by Officer Ryan, on complaint of O'Pray, and taken to the lock-up. On Sunday evening a trial was held, in which Ryan officiated as Police Justice and fined them $15. They did not have as much money with them, so they finally settled by paying altogether $11 fines and $2 for costs. They were then discharged from custody.

If this story be correct, there is more need still for investigation.

Third Judicial District. The Republican Convention for the Third Judicial District was held at the Decker House on Saturday. It was a stormy meeting. There were contesting delegates from this county, and the meeting was not harmonious. Messrs. Voorhis, Wade and Steadman of Albany withdrew from the Convention, leaving this county to be represented by John M. Harris and T. B. Morrow. The following gentlemen were placed in nomination for Justice of the Supreme Court: Messrs. John H. Reynolds of Columbia, W. S. Kenyon of Ulster, Isaac Lawson of Albany, Wm. H. Greene, George Woodford, and Rufus H. King. On the second ballot John H. Reynolds had the most votes, Kenyon seven and Woodford two. This nominated Kenyon. The Convention was then adjourned.

The boys had a fine time with the rats on Tuesday. The water drove them out of their hiding-places, and they scampered across the wharves, and the boys after them with stones and sticks. Lots of them were killed.

The moving machine man was busy again on the corner of Division and Grand streets on Tuesday. Lots of people watched their breath in vain attempts to beat everybody else.

Lost by a little girl a little kitten, with a great deal of white and a little maltese about it, and a little red ribbon on its little neck with a little name upon it. Anybody leaving it at this office will receive a little silver piece.

The Kingston National Bank reports loans $245,357.82, legal tender $18,600, capital $150,000, surplus $18,221.34, profits $3,325.57, deposits $131,684.57.

One of our carriers had a rough time serving our patrons in the storm. His hat blew off into the gutter, and in trying to regain it he himself fell into it, and in trying to get up the wind tossed him over again. He had to travel home after another hat, and then made a new start. After he reached home from his route he was as wet as a drowned rat—but he served his route.

An Avenue saloon-keeper invited a lot of German friends to visit him last Sunday, and his good wife roasted some chickens, which she put away in a back-room while she treated them hospitably to lager at the bar. After they had drunk about a dozen times one of the party went in the back room and plumped the chickens in his hat, and out he stalked, leaving the rest swigging away. After they had gulped down eighteen or twenty glasses apiece they started for the more substantial food the lady of the house had provided for them. Their disappointment was so great that they had to take half a dozen more drinks before they could begin to think of the matter with any degree of composure. Meanwhile 'tother Datchman' was moved to the observation car that he "never did see such tender and nice chickens as that little bar-tender lady cooked for him."

Personal. The friends of Capt. James Cogswell will be glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from his injuries, and is expected home the latter part of the week.

Railroad Accident at Tivoli. Trains on the Hudson River Railroad were somewhat delayed Monday evening in consequence of a collision which occurred at Tivoli about seven o'clock. The train which left at 5:30 and the one due here at 8:30 met on a single track which is being widened and repairs are being made, and one of the engines and some of the cars were displaced from the track. No person was hurt, and no great damage resulted, the orders being that speed should be reduced to five miles per hour there. The north bound train had the right of way. —Albany Express.

The Way She Does It. We were told yesterday of an old lady residing near if not in this city, who is the mother of three blooming, grown-up daughters. Now, on Sunday evenings they go to church, as all good girls should, and after service are usually escorted home by three young men, which performance (not the going to church—the escort home) has a tendency to make the girls a little behind-hand in rising on Monday morning, which is wash morning. That rather asperates the good mother, who is usually in the sweetest of tempers, so going to the stairs leading to the room of the girls, she exclaims in a severe voice, "Girls, 'aint you ashamed of yourselves! Here it's Monday morning, and to-morrow's Tuesday and 'next day's Wednesday. There's the week half gone, and you 'aunt done washin' yet!" Then from above can be heard three bonuses on the floor, and soon after comes such a getting down stairs as was never seen before.

Inter County S. S. Association. The anniversary meeting of the Ulster County Sunday School Association commenced this day (Wednesday) at the Second M. E. Church of this city. B. Nicholson; 13, Singing and Benediction. The programme for the evening session, which commences at seven o'clock, will be as follows: 1, Children's Meeting; 2, Singing; 3, Scripture Reading; 4, Prayer; 5, Singing; 6, Address by Frank D. Abrams; 7, Singing; 8, Address by Rev. J. Elmendorf, D. D.; 9, Singing; 10, Address by Rev. C. Waters; 11, Singing and Benediction.
